E-Learning

Facial Recognition

This e-learning course uses facial recognition to ensure that the delegate receiving the qualification is the same delegate doing the course and answering the questions. This means that busy managers and supervisors don't need to take time away from their job to go to a training centre to undertake testing.

Initially four photographs will be taken using the delegate's devices webcam / front facing camera - with the delegate looking left, right, up and down. Every so often the camera will re-verify the same person is completing the course, and if not the training will cease. This same re-verification will happen for every question in the exam.

At the end a picture will be taken that the delegate can pose for - this will be embedded in their pass receipt and used to input into the IPAF Admin system when processing the IPAF course.

IPAF ePAL

HSS has been awarded an EcoVadis Gold rating, reaffirming our group commitment to sustainability and ethical business practices.

HSS Training are working hard to protect the environment whilst providing quality services to our customers. HSS are aware that the unnecessary printing of paper certificates may negatively impact your environmental aspirations and as well as our own.

For this reason all IPAF certifications are now digital as standard through IPAF Digital PAL Card Licence Application (ePAL); the cost of which is included within your course fee.

However, if it is imperative that you have a paper certificate this can be arranged at the additional cost of £40+VAT in order to cover the necessary costs for processing, printing and postage.
