

Unconscious Bias - E-Learning

Course Aim

Roughly 99% of the information that our brain processes happens unconsciously, which often causes unconscious biases to occur in and out of the workplace. It is important that delegates have the knowledge to identify and tackle these biases, as they have a seriously negative impact on morale and productivity.

This course helps delegates to train their mind to reduce bias and understand the dangers of allowing themselves to make assumptions. Additionally, it aims to help delegates understand the negative impact unconscious bias' can have on organisations.
